

SECOND EDITORIAL REMARK ON THE MANUSCRIPT [13]

References: The list of references is not typeset properly. Please type the references in a way that the readers may immediately understand where and how they may look for a document. Add volumes and journal titles for the references [1] and [2]. Check the spelling of the first name in [2]. Note that the address or affiliation of the author is not a reference, but the exact journal name, volumes, pages, or URL are. This is the information necessary to locate the article.

If the following two references are matching with [1] and [2], then quite a lot needs to be carefully corrected.

J. M. J. van Leeuwen. The domino effect. Am. J. Phys. 78, 7, 721-727 (2010), arXiv:physics/0401018v1 [physics.gen-ph]

Steve Koellhoffer, Chana Kuhns, Karen Tsang, and Mike Zeitz. Falling dominoes (University of Delaware, December 9, 2005), <http://www.math.udel.edu/~rossi/Math512/2005/Team3.pdf>

$0 < i \leq n$ :  $0 < i \leq n$ ?